Communication, Organization, Determination and Ethics

To keep the lines of (C) communication open between management and residents, to make sure our time is (O) organized so employees are properly trained to meet the needs of the residents, to be (D) determined to make residents our number one priority and to (E) treat every person in the same manner. "We Love Our Residents!"

INTRODUCTION

Professional management assures you that you will be living in pleasant surroundings in a sociable and enjoyable community.

A major prerequisite for admittance to this community is that the prospective resident be informed of the rules and regulations. Each resident must read and agree to abide by the rules as set forth in these Rules and Regulations. Ignorance of a rule cannot be accepted as an excuse for violation of that rule. Each new move-in accepts the rules and regulations by his act of moving in and is, therefore, liable to obey them.

Rules and regulations are established for the benefit and protection of all residents of this community. Enforcement of the regulations means the safety and neighborhood comfort that we all want to enjoy. With your cooperation, and with management reasonably and fairly enforcing these rules, you can be assured of an ideal existence within a well-governed and peaceful community.

Enforcement of the rules is a major part of the duties and obligations of your Community Managers. Every effort will be made to see that the regulations are enforced.

A resident who is in violation of a regulation is responsible to correct the infraction, with or without notice from management. In the event that a resident is informed of an infraction by management and the infraction is not corrected promptly or the violation is continually repeated, the Recreational vehicle Community may pursue one of two options (or both).

- 1) Correct the violation and charge (fees) the resident; as listed in ANNEX II – Schedule of Fees
- 2) Eviction procedures for cause or;
- 3) A combination of 1 and 2

Eviction proceedings, as solution to problems, will be used only as a last resort when other methods have failed. However, should eviction become necessary, the resident shall be liable for all costs incurred thereby, including moving costs and reasonable attorney's fees or court costs.

STANDARDS FOR COMMUNITY LIVING

All prospective residents must be approved by the Community Manager and must sign the lease prior to taking up residency in the home, taking possession of a home currently in the Community or moving a Home into the Community. Except as expressly provided by applicable law, no one other than those executing the Lease shall be allowed to reside upon the Premises without the prior written consent from the Community Manager. The purchase of a Residents Home by one who has not executed a lease with Owner or obtained written consent from the Community Manager shall not constitute permission or right for the purchaser(s) to reside within the Community. An executed Lease, Home Addendum and these Standards as well as a completed and approved Application for Residency and credit and background check, must be received by the Community Manager prior to the:

- (i) Arrival of the Resident's Home in the Community;
